Lesson 5. Trees

POETRY

SOUL OF THE POEM

The poem, "Trees" is a long catalogue describing the various advantages of trees. Every person who looks at a tree appreciates it for a different reason. Trees are the source of sustaining life; they provide food and shelter. They are loved by children while playing games. They give shade and fruits and various other gifts.

STANZAWISE EXPLANATION OF THE POEM

Stanza 1

Trees are for birds.
Trees are for children.
Trees are to make tree houses in.
Trees are to swing on.
Trees are for the wind to blow through.
Trees are to hide behind in 'Hide and Seek'.
Trees are to have tea parties under.
Trees are for kites to get caught in.
Trees are to make cool shade in summer.
Trees are to make no shade in winter.
Trees are for apples to grow on, and pears;
Trees are to chop down and call. "TIMBER-R-R!"
Trees make mothers say,
What a lovely picture to paint!"
Trees make fathers say,
"What a lot of leaves to rake this fall!"

Reference The above lines have been taken from Shirley Bauer's poem, 'Trees'.

Context The poet lists down the various advantages of the trees.

Explanation The trees are used by birds. They live in the trees and build their nests. Trees are used by children.

They love to make tree houses and use them as swings. Children love to play hide and seek behind the trees. Not just children, even grown ups have fun around the trees.

They have their tea parties under the shade of the trees. The strong winds that blow through the trees provide relief to passers-by. During extreme summers, trees provide shade.

During winters, trees do not provide shade and allow people to bathe in the sun. People get to eat delicious fruit like apples and pear. Trees are useful even when they are chopped down.

We get timber which is used to make furniture. To some, trees are like beautiful pictures that they would love to paint and to others they are profitable as even their shattered leaves could be put to great use.

NCERT FOLDER

Working with the poem

1. What are the games or human activities which use trees, or in which trees also 'participate'?

Children use trees for their games. They make tree houses and play 'hide and seek' behind the trees. Trees play an important role also while adults are spending some time at leisure. Under the shade of the trees, they have their tea parties and they also become a befitting subject matter for painting.

2. (i) "Trees are to make no shade in winter." What does this mean? (Contrast this line with the line immediately before it.)

During summers, the trees provide cool shade. In winters, this shade is not required. So people stand under the open sun to enjoy its warmth.

- (ii) "Trees are for apples to grow on, or pears." Do you agree that one purpose of a tree is to have fruit on it? Or Do you think this line is humorous?

One purpose of the trees is to provide fruits like apples, pears and so on.

This line is not humorous, Humans rely on trees for food.

3. With the help of your partner, try to rewrite some lines in the poem, or add new ones of your own as in the following examples.

Trees are for birds to build nests in.

Trees are for people to sit under.

Now try to compose a similar poem about water, or air.

Trees are for birds to build nests in.

Trees are for people to sit under.

Trees are for those leisurely hours to enjoy the beauty of nature.

Trees are for the homemakers to beautify their house.

Trees are for the sick ones to derive their medicine from.

Trees are for everyone because to every person a tree has some gift to offer.
